St. Patrick's Day

Arise, my lads,
And march away,
With lilting song,
And laughter gay:
The sun shines bright,
And cares are light,
On St. Patrick's Day.

Arise, my lads,
And take your stand,
Where patriots meet
In every land:
Let flags fly high
In Freedom's sky,
On St. Patrick's Day

Arise, my lads,
By land and sea,
For hero legions
March with thee:
From Plymouth Rock
To Erin's Shore,
On St. Patrick's Day.

Arise, my lads,
And march again.
The world has need
Of Erin's men:
Fly banners high,
Of emerald hue,
Beside the glorious Red, White and Blue.
On St. Patrick's Day.

Boys' Club In Twin Victory

The Boys' Club won both ends of a twin bill recently when the varsity trimmed the strong South Boston Boys' Club 61-47, and the JV's edged the West End House 46-43 at the Spy Pand gym.

The varsity protected their current winning streak as Billy Keohane and Johnnie Hanlon paced the attack with 13 and 10 points respectively. Bartis led the South Boston quintet tallying 13 points. In the local contest the JV's were pressed throughout the entire game. The Arlington five, after coming from behind to gain a lead in the first period, moved out in front by a two basket lead to hold a 25-21 edge at half-time. A pair of quick baskets mid-way through the third period put the West End club back into the game to lead by a point at the three-quarter mark. Arlington's DeRosas combined with Jackie Bowler with only a minute remaining to set up the winning basket.

The lineups: (Varsity) r. f. Keohane, Cooper l. f. Guarnotta, Stephen; c. Egan, Canty; r. g. O'Neil, Hanlon; l. g. Shea. (South Boston B. C.) r. f. O'Toole, Kotelly; l. f. Gattuso, J. Ryan; c. Bartis, Sullivan; rg. Harris, W. Ryan; lg. Zimmer. (JV's) r. f. J. Bowler; l. f. Fornum; c. DeRosas; rg. B. Bowler; lg. Swanson (West End House) r. f. DeFrosio; l. f. Marinella; c. Barrett; rg. S. Marinella; lg. Grasso.

FREE THROWS

Intermural leagues at the Club are commanding a good deal of attention. The Holy Cross five is leading the Intermediate league. In the Junior competition the Red Devils have a slight edge. Director Sumner has obtained trophies for the winners of both leagues. The high school quintet has won eight straight. Possibilities of a Tech tourney bid on their recent stretch. Plenty of ex-AHS stars in the local town basketball league. American Legion hoop team idle over the weekend. Fans around town would like to see a return engagement of the recent Legion vs Boy's Club thriller.

Arlington Would Perpetuate Memory Of Famous Teacher

A history of athletics at Arlington High School would include page upon page of great athletic accomplishment by various teams, players and coaches. The outstanding achievements of the late Fred V. Ostergren, teacher-coach of the varsity football and baseball teams from 1931 through 1943 would certainly feature such a history. The Park and School Boards have therefore requested Town Meeting to approve the erection of a field house this year in his memory at Warren A. Peirce Field.

Fred Ostergren was born in Roxbury and graduated from Old Roxbury High School in 1910. He became Captain of both the football and baseball teams in his senior year at Holy Cross College. After graduating, he joined the Boston Red Sox for whom he played first base in 1914, 1915, and part of the 1916 season.

He held many High School and College coaching assignments before coming to Arlington. He coached baseball and football at Western Reserve, St. Bonaventure and Bowdoin Colleges as well as at Portland and Deering High Schools in Portland, Maine.

Fred came to Arlington in 1931 as a teacher in the High School. He was also pointed coach of our football and baseball teams. His football squad of that year was the first to use the then completed Warren A. Peirce Field and he participated in the formal dedication of this stadium.

Ostergren's death on July 4, 1945 stunned the world of sport. He had been for many years treasurer of the Gridiron Club of Boston, and at the time of his death was its Vice President. He was a former President of the Massachusetts State Coaches Association. He was largely responsible for the organization of the Touchdown Club of Arlington, whose purpose is to assist in every way possible the athletic program of Arlington High School. He also was a member of many social and fraternal organizations in the community.

The last team coached by Fred was the young American Legion Baseball Team of 1945. The night before his death his Legion team won a thriller in the ninth inning to preserve their undefeated record. Although ordered by his doctor not to do any more coaching, the urge to be with the youth of Arlington on the athletic field could not be suppressed.

It would be most appropriate, therefore, if Arlington would perpetuate the memory of this great teacher-coach by erecting a field house in his name at Warren A. Peirce Field when his spirit would then be close to our young athletes whom he so deeply respected and with whom he had so tirelessly and so unselfishly worked.

Monthly Meeting Of NACA On March 22

The Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening, March 22nd, at the Boston City Club. The guest speaker on this occasion will be Sterling K. Atkinson, head of the Accounting Department of Temple University, who will discuss "The Contribution of Cost Accounts to Control".

Dr. Atkinson has a varied background of teaching, research and public accounting experience. He received his Ph. D. Degree from Columbia University and his C. P. A. Certificate from Pennsylvania. He is a member of the firm of Hart, Fry, Atkinson, and Rule, Certified Public Accountants, in Philadelphia, and a member of the National Headquarters Research Staff of the N. A. C. A.

He has been a contributor of note to the Cost Accountants Handbook and has prepared many articles dealing with tax accounting problems used extensively in the accounting profession.

Local residents assisting in the promotion of this meeting are: Thomas L. Morison, 4 Highland Terrace, Winchester (Post President of Boston Chapter). Charles Craven, 8 Wyman Court, Winchester (Hospitality Chairman, P.E., Boston Chapter).

HEAR FELLOW TOWNSMAN

At a recent meeting of the Men's Club of the First Baptist church, the class was privileged to hear its fellow townsman, Rabbi Herman H. Rabenowitz, president of the Greater Boston Rabbinical Association, address the group on the subject of Brotherhood Week.

Summer Street Hearing Mar. 22

A public hearing on House Bill 683, for the widening of the Summer Street boulevard from Brattle Street to the Lexington line, will be held on March 22nd, before the committee on Highways. All those interested in the bill are asked to attend the hearing and register their wishes on the project.

-SCOOP-

Get there first—the Town Topic is selling at 1-2 price their costume jewelry and toy departments to make way for larger office supply and fountain pen department—their closing out their present joke and trick line—and shortening inventory on all Italian potteries—a word to the wise is sufficient.

PLANS FOR SYMMES HOSPITAL OUTLINED AT DINNER WED.

More than three hundred representative citizens of this and neighboring communities, all of which benefit through the functioning of the Symmes Arlington Hospital, attended a dinner last evening (Wednesday) in the Robins Town Hall, at 6:30 o'clock, when the problems of financing the completion of the new four story wing of the hospital were considered.

Ernest W. Davis, president of the hospital board and chairman of the community relations committee which conducted the recent extensive survey taken by the trustees of the hospital, announced at the dinner that 94 per cent of all those participating in the poll believed that immediate steps should be taken to finish the new wing, which will increase by more than fifty per cent, the accommodations for patients at the hospital, and greatly expand its facilities for service in the community.

It would also appear to be the opinion of a great majority of those replying to the survey, according to Mr. Davis, that the completion of the wing be financed by public subscriptions to be obtained through a community-wide campaign. More than 72 out of each 100 questionnaires returned, so said Mr. Davis, favored this means of raising the needed funds.

A very complete outline of the proposed program to be carried out by the enlarged hospital, was submitted at the dinner, with Mr. Davis acting as chairman, stressing the people's need for more patients' beds and facilities. The point of view of the doctors of the hospital was outlined by Dr. L. Curtis Foye. Administrator E. Vernon Rich outlined what the enlarged hospital facilities would bring in the line of increased community service, while the expansion program and the financial problems involved were discussed by Wilson D. Clark, Jr., vice president of the hospital.

Softball League

A sure sign of Spring is our annual call for entries in the Town Softball League. Our third season of league activity promises to be even more successful than last season.

League activity will begin the first week in May. An organization meeting will be held prior to the start of the league to discuss rules, games to be played, league formation, etc.

Team entries should be comprised of fellows of at least High School graduate age. Teams who participated in the league last year will receive consideration before any new entries are accepted. Our present plans include the acceptance of a number of new entries in the league.

Entry blanks can be obtained at the office of the Park Commission, Town Hall, Arlington, and must be filed not later than Monday April 11.

A large turnout of former Scouters and scouts gathered at Saint Raphael's Parish Hall, West Medford, for an evening of entertainment and reminiscing as part of the National Boy Scout Week celebration. Present members of Troop 21 put on a display of scout ing skills much to the enjoyment of everyone.

John Tortelli, committee chairman, was master of ceremonies.
Reverend Herbert Phinney, Troop Chaplain, welcomed the scout and scouters. John Drohan gave a short talk on the achievements of scouting at Saint Raphael's in 10 years.

Awarded the Ad Altare Dei
Cross (Scout Sunday), Joseph
Arena, present member of Troop 21.

Joseph Riley, Mayor of Med-

GODFREY: When a surveyor looks through that little telescope and starts waving, who's he waving at?
GUEST: Another surveyor. He's asking if it's all right to make contact.
GODFREY: There was a time when I used to do a little waving for that very same reason.

GUEST: Why don't you call me Kay? You can't get in any trouble that way.
GODFREY: You don't know Godfrey... When a fellow starts calling a girl by her first name, chances are she's going to wind up with his LAST name.

GUEST: My husband is Morey Amsterdam.
GODFREY: You're Morey's wife, eh? Well, well, how is he? I haven't seen him in months.

GUEST: He's pretty busy. He has a television show, he has that variety show on Broadway and he has his own program on CBS. He just runs from one to another.
GODFREY: Sounds like YOU haven't seen him in months, either.

GUEST: I'm a criminal lawyer.
GODFREY: Is that so? You know, the first time a fellow told me he was a criminal lawyer, I didn't know whether it was a profession or a confession.

enabled the McCarthymen to take

Dave Gott, brilliant Red and

MEN'S CLASS HONORS

At a recent Sunday session of the Men's Class of the First Bap-former orchestra leader, Foster F.

Brown, Special recognition was made of the fifteen years of service rendered by Mr. Brown as musical director, during which time he organized and led an orchestra of up to twenty-two pieces. A large number representing those connected with the Orchestra through the past years, were guests and assisted in honoring Mr. Brown on this occasion.
Stanley Beck and Everett Watt delighted the group with their rendition of several appropriate numbers, all favorite selections of the guest of honor.

Red Cross Drive Stresses Vital Need Of Contributions For Augmented Blood Program

Blood Needs Acute, As Possible Future Defense Measures

The blood program of the Red Cross in Massachusetts is one of the most vital Missions of Mercy through which contribution to the current Greater Boston campaign or $1,250,000 will help carry on his program.

In June at 314 Dartmouth st., near Copley Square, Boston, a blood center will be opened for the collection, processing and distribution of blood without charge or patients in more than 100 hospitals in the State.

This program, only a year old ere, is already paying off health dividends to thousands. More than million dollars worth of blood and life-giving blood products distributed free in this state in 1948 by the Red Cross to ill and injured.

Arlington residents have received blood valued at $8,065.00.

Blood needs are acute here as elsewhere. Doctors estimate the need for whole blood alone in Massachusetts is 150,000 pints annually. In addition to blood collected at hospital blood banks, the Red Cross total of blood distributed last year was about 35,000 pints of whole blood, and the constant, increasing needs initiated the move to open the regional center.

Blood, the silent partner of physicians in operating rooms, has sustained the lives of tiny infants afflicted with RH blood; brought about the recovery of the badly burned in fires and explosions; cheated death in diseases that, before the use of plasma fractions automatically tolled countless lives.

The program collected more than 13,000,000 pints of blood in its wartime centers and peacetime needs are even greater. Doctors estimate that more than five pints of blood are needed for each hospital bed in every hospital in the nation.

In 1949 the National Red Cross estimates that one of its largest expenditures will be $8,000,000 for the blood program nationally.

In Greater Boston and Massachusetts, where the blood program was pioneered, the Red Cross will continue in collections, processing and distribution to help save lives. Contributions to the fund drive mean not only help for disaster sufferers, aid to servicemen, veterans and their families, but will eventually help someone in this community, stricken by accident or illness, through the blood program.

A MESSAGE TO THE CUSTOMERS OF BOSTON EDISON COMPANY

THIS COMPANY has mailed to 22,564 stockholders and 3300 employees a detailed report of its operations for the year 1948. The expense of sending the full report to 423,335 customers would be prohibitive, so the Company takes this method of informing its customers of some of the significant trends in the Company's operations during the last twenty years.

It is our paramount obligation to provide adequate and dependable service in the manufacture and distribution of electricity at the lowest possible cost. The management of this Company strives at all times to fulfill this obligation to the public, consistent with a fair and reasonable return to the investor and fair and reasonable wages and good working conditions for the employees.

We believe our customers will be interested in our Income Statements for the calendar years 1928, the last complete pre-depression year; 1938, a typical pre-war year; and 1948, a post-war year. We also submit condensed Balance Sheets as at December 31, 1928, 1938 and 1948. The figures and accompanying charts tell an eloquent story of the manner in which this Company has met your steadily increasing demands for service by plant expansion, has offset phenomenal increases in costs by improved operating efficiency and has actually reduced rates to make electricity the shining exception to the rule of high prices.

Former Arlington Women Die In Automobile Plunge In Florida

Five women, including two former Arlington Heights residents, a mother and her daughter, and all related, were drowned at Nokomis, Florida, on Thursday, March 10, when they were trapped in their automobile, which plunged into a creek following a collision with a truck.

Mrs. Julia May Stevens, 47, and her mother, Mrs. Bert Currier, were former Arlington residents, at 82 Claremont avenue, Arlington Heights. The other three victims were Mrs. George C. Sawyer and Mrs. Mabel Frink, of Pompton Lake, N. J., and Mrs. Stella Scott, of Little Rock, Arkansas. Mrs. Frink, Mrs. Currier and Mrs. Scott were sisters. Mrs. A. H. Stevens, Sr., mother-in-law of Mrs. Stevens, is at present a resident of this town.

The car left the highway after being hit from behind by a truck driven by Robert William Gentle, Huntsville, Ala. The latter stated to the police that the automobile just had passed him, cut in sharply ahead of him and slowed down so suddenly because of other cars ahead, that he was unable to avoid a collision. No charge has been brought against him.

Mrs. Stevens was a graduate of Wellesley College class of 1921, and was the widow of Dr. Ames H. Stevens. The couple were married in 1927, and Dr. Stevens passed away in 1938.

Mrs. Currier was the widow of Representative Burt Currier. She was a member of the Arlington Heights Study Club and the Park Avenue Congregational church. The family moved to Tarpon Springs, Florida about twenty years ago. Mrs. Currier maintained a summer home at Saco, Maine. Included in the survivors are three sons of Mrs. Stevens. They are David, 17, Ned 12, at Tarpon Springs, and George Albert, 21, of Cincinnati Ohio, who was graduated from Harvard last fall. Double funeral services were held on Tuesday, March 15, at the Park Avenue Congregational Church, Arlington Heights, at two p. m. Burial was in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington. A native of Montpelier, Vermont, Mrs. Currier was very active in church and club affairs while residing in Arlington Heights. She is survived by a son, Captain George C. Currier, United States Navy, whose home is in Larchmont, New York. Her daughter, who was a graduate of Wellesley College, leaves three sons, George A., 21, Ned, 17, and David 12.

Local Democratic Youth Club Founded Here

This week a group of Arlington residents who are members of the Young Democratic Clubs of Massachusetts formed a local chapter of the Democratic party's official youth organization.

The first meeting of the club was opened in the home of William J. O'Brien at 319 Massachusetts Avenue by Jerome Troy, National Chairman of the Young Democratic Clubs of America, who explained that the organization was reactivated shortly before the national elections in 1946. Jerry also discussed the structure of the youth movement and mentioned that the clubs operate directly under the Democratic National Committee, the party's top policy group.

Jim Murray, a Boston Attorney assisted with the local group's organizational problems and conducted the meeting informally, while the members elected their first officers, John H. O'Brien, a junior at Boston University and recently elected town meeting member, was elected President. The members voted to have three Vice presidents in order to divide the social, political and publicity functions of the club. Thomas H. Dahill Jr., a senior at Tufts College, was elected Vice President in charge of social activities. Philip D. O'Neill, a senior at Boston University School of Public Relations and a second term town meeting member, was elected Vice President in charge of political activities, and Margaret A. O'Brien, a senior in Arlington High School, was elected Vice President in charge of publicity. The club also elected: Secretary, Mrs. Louise Stedman, widow of Thomas Stedman and now a senior at

A. in the school hall at eight o'clock on Monday evening Mr. Keck took as his subject "What to Look For and Expect from our School System, and How to get it." The class rooms were open for inspection of the parents preceding the address, from 7:30 until 8 o'clock.

ARLINGTON'S ALLOTMENT TO BE $25,320 FOR RED FEATHER NEEDS

Arlington's Red Feather service will receive an allotment of $25,320 from the Greater Boston Community Fund's fall campaign for 1949. President John L. Fagerland of the Arlington Community Chest announced today.

Individual allocations to local member agencies are: Boys' Club, $10,000; Visiting Nurse Association, $5,870; Girl Scouts, $3,980; Social Service League, $3,800; St. Agnes Conference St. Vincent de Paul, $1,320; Catholic Women's Guild, $350.

Supplementing the $25,320 total is the local share credited to Arlington Boys Scouts from the $18,400 allocated to Sachem Council for Scouting administration in Arlington, Bedford, Belmont, Lexington, Lincoln, Waltham and Watertown. Nearly 1,000 Boy Scouts in Arlington benefit from this allocation. Another service to local youth, not indicated, is the supervision of the Camp Fire Girls through the Greater Boston Council in Boston.

All Community Fund allocations are based on deficits, Mr. Fagerland emphasized. The Red Feather dollar, he explained, goes toward the cost of a agency operation over and above income from such sources as fees and endowments. On an average, the Community Fund provides about one fifth of the more than 36 million dollars required for the operation of Greater Boston's 300 Red Feather services each year.

In appraising the Red Feather service picture, it must be constantly borne in mind, he said, that people of Arlington also make generous use of Greater Boston agencies beyond the town borders. In 1947 (the latest year of available records), 2,068 local residents used 29 different Red Feather hospital cost for a patient per day is $16.00, a figure which many cannot afford to pay in full. The deficit in such cases is met by the Community Fund and other sources of income.

Arlington folks also depend heavily upon other Red Feather services outside the town, most of them centrally located in Boston. In 1947, for example, 4,986 Arlington persons were served by 53 different agencies, including youth groups and special services for children, the family and the handicapped. Detailed figures of service to local residents are available at the North Metropolitan Division office, 657 Main street, Waltham (WA 5-7010).

This news will be of special interest to the 740 Arlington workers, led by Mr. Fagerland, who devoted themselves so faithfully to last fall's campaign, and to the 5,058 individuals and firms who contributed so generously to make these services to Arlington possible.

Arthur G. Rotch, chairman of the Fund's Central Budget Committee, gives high praise to the several group budget committees who have devoted hours on end since November first to fair allocation of the 1949 campaign total, $6,131,314 (Dec. 31).

Serving on the local chest budget committee were: Everett G. Bryant, Chairman; Albert H. Perkins; Merwin F. Ashley; Gardner C. Porter; Howard W. Cousins; Mrs. Russell T. Hamlet; John L. Fagerland; Harold A. Cahalin.

Pastor Of St. James Church Hopes For Early Construction Of St. James Parochial School

Although necessarily delayed for some months in the construction of the proposed new St. James parochial school, at Arlington Heights, on account of the high cost of materials and labor, Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, D. D. the pastor, is still hopeful that the project may be started this coming spring.

The necessary amount has al ready been raised and set aside for the project of the erection of the new school. Rev. O'Connor states that he is keeping in touch with the staff of architects and contractor constantly, and the matter of rise and fall costs is being watched very closely. According to the latest indications, construction may start as early as this coming April, he says.

Why wait?

Don't wait and worry if you have a small or large decision to make demanding the advice and counsel of someone living miles away. Over long distance telephone lines your thoughts, your ideas — yes, your fears or your joys — can be transmitted to another as easily as though you were sitting together in your own living room. And the help and "lift" you need can come back to you quickly. For separation, loneliness, distances are banished when you chat by telephone.

Why not visit by telephone now? It costs so little — it's so satisfying. You get so much and you give so much.

Do you realize how little long distance costs?
